

Weekly Announcements for the church in Richardson

...Surely blessing, I will bless you; and multiplying, I will multiply you. (Hebrew 6:14)

The latter glory of this house will be greater than the former,
says Jehovah of hosts; and in this place I will give peace, ... (Haggai 2:9)

Dear saints:

Based on the fellowship among brothers from the churches of McKinney, Plano & Richardson, the "Weekly Announcements for the church in Richardson" starts to publish today. This is for the increase and the spreading of the church, and to meet the needs for saints' spiritual pursuing.

A brief history of weekly announcements among us: The first edition of "Dallas-Fort Worth Chinese Weekly Announcements" was published on July 21, 1996. Until Feb. 20, 2005, 449 editions had been published. Because of the increase of the churches and to take care of the needs for English-speaking saints, the first edition of "Weekly Announcements for the churches in Plano and Richardson" was published on Feb. 27, 2005. When the church in McKinney joined in this weekly announcements at edition 501 on Sep. 28, 2014, the name changed to "Weekly Announcements for the churches in McKinney, Plano & Richardson". Until last week, it had been published 653 editions.

From this over 21 years of history of publishing weekly announcements, we can see the development from Dallas-Fort Worth Chinese weekly announcements to weekly announcements for three churches, now to weekly announcements for the church in Richardson. Thank the Lord!

Hymn 432 O Love, that wilt not let me go

- 1 O Love, that wilt not let me go,
I rest my weary soul in Thee;
I give Thee back the life I owe,
That in Thine ocean depths its flow
May richer, fuller be.
- 2 O Light, that followest all my way,
I yield my flickering torch to Thee;
My heart restores its borrowed ray,
That in Thy sunshine's blaze its day
May brighter, fairer be.
- 3 O Joy, that seekest me through pain,
I cannot close my heart to Thee;
I trace the rainbow through the rain,
And feel the promise is not vain
That morn shall tearless be.
- 4 O Cross, that liftest up my head,
I dare not ask to fly from Thee;
I lay in dust life's glory dead,
And from the ground there blossoms red
Life that shall endless be.

Brief Background of the Hymn

This hymn was written by George Matheson (1842 - 1906). It was written on the evening of Matheson's sister's marriage on June 6, 1882. Years before, he had been engaged, until his fiancée learned that he was going blind and she told him that she could not go through life with a blind man. He went blind and his sister had been the one to care for him through the years, but now she was gone. He was now 40, and his sister's marriage brought a fresh reminder of his own heartbreak. It was in the midst of this circumstance and intense sadness that the Lord gave Matheson this hymn, which he said was written in five minutes. It is best to take Matheson's own account:

"It was the day of my sister's marriage. Something happened to me, which was known only to myself, and which caused me the most severe mental suffering. The hymn was the fruit of that suffering. It was the quickest bit of work I ever did in my life. I had the impression rather of having it dictated to me by some inward voice than of working it out myself. ...this came like a dayspring from on high."

In this hymn, we touch the author's touching spirit of consecration. Outwardly, the author was in sufferings, both physically and mentally. Such an environment can easily cause one to be in self-pity and self-love and to be discouraged. Yet the author experienced "O Love, that wilt not let me go". He then consecrated himself to the Lord by "give Thee back the life I owe". Through this, he experienced the rich supply in resurrection "there blossoms red life that shall endless be". 2 Cor. 5:14-15 "For the love of Christ constrains us because we have judged this, that One died for all, therefore all died; And He died for all that those who live may no longer live to themselves but to Him who died for them and has been raised."
